THERE ARE NO LIMITS FOR Sno-Cone SIZE RACERS

AT THE XTERRA ICEMAN COMETH CHALLENGE

(Traverse City, MI) Autumn, 2005 – The tradition of the XTERRA

Iceman Cometh Challenge continues as it welcomes Sno-Cone size mountain bike enthusiasts to the annual event on Saturday, November 5, 2005.

The trails may be icy and full of riders on the 27-mile point-to-point event slated for adult riders, but for kids ages 2 to 12 there are No

Limits!

In its third year, the Sno-Cone Race is Free! Every young rider will receive a medal to hang around their neck, a way cool gift, an official bike number-plate, and even stickers for their courage on the trail!

The 4th Annual Sno-Cone Race will begin just after the slush Cup at 9:35 a.m. on Saturday, November 5, 2005. Participants will be broken down into appropriate age categories and ability levels. The course will consist of a short (1/4 mile) and mostly flat loop around Timber Ridge Campground for the very youngest riders, and a 1.5 mile course for older riders. Each age group will ride a different number of laps.

There is one catch...every young cyclist is required to have an ANSI approved helmet and ensure that their bike passes a safety inspection.

Registration is FREE, but requested to participate. Entry forms are available online at www.iceman.com in the Slush Cup section.
